

Anthem® Flex Herbicide Assurance Program

Program Description:

FMC assures Anthem® Flex herbicide provides 80 percent Italian ryegrass control up to 45 days after application. Anthem Flex herbicide is a highly effective herbicide for the control of Italian ryegrass in fall planted wheat when used according to label directions. Apply 2.5 to 4.5 ounces (see chart below) of Anthem Flex herbicide per acre as a delayed preemergence to wheat for control of Italian ryegrass. The delayed preemergence application timing should be when the wheat seed radical is at least 0.5 inches long but prior to wheat spiking. This usually occurs three to five days after planting, but can vary widely depending on soil moisture and temperature.

Qualifying Product	Assurance Benefit	Minimum Application Rates by Soil Texture
		Coarse	Medium	Fine
Anthem Flex herbicide	80% Italian ryegrass control up to 45 days after application	2.5 oz./A – 2.7 oz./A	2.75 oz./A – 3.5 oz./A	3.5 oz./A – 4.5 oz./A

FMC assures 80 percent ryegrass control up to 45 days after application if the following conditions are met:

- Wheat is planted on clean seedbed with no Italian ryegrass germinated. Paraquat or other effective non-selective herbicide may be used to ensure no Italian ryegrass is present at planting.
- Anthem Flex herbicide is applied delayed preemergence as described above.
- The correct label rate is applied according to target weed and soil texture.
- At least 0.5 inches of rainfall occurs within 10 days after application.
- Grower must have an untreated check in order to valid weed control.

In the event a grower does not achieve at least 80 percent control up to 45 days after application, FMC will pay up to $4/A toward the cost of a post emergence herbicide application.

To be eligible for this program, growers need to contact their FMC Retail Market Manager or Star Retailer before making an application of a post emergence herbicide.
