

Heritage SU Cereal Herbicide Assurance Program-US

Program Description:

Extreme weather events are beyond a farmer’s control, and FMC is committed to supporting growers’ investment in crop and yield protection. The Heritage SU Cereal Herbicide Assurance Program is designed to help growers mitigate crop loss risks associated with drought, flood, hail, frost/freeze or fire. Should this occur and a grower’s field is uneconomical to harvest, growers will receive credit where qualifying products were purchased in the amount of the invoiced value on lost acres.

Program Qualifications:

If qualifying package branded product or products contained in PrecisionPac custom blends are used at specified rates and it is determined that a field or substantial portion of a field is uneconomical to harvest from crop loss due to drought, flood, hail, frost/freeze, or fire, FMC will return up to the cost of qualifying products on acres that are uneconomical to harvest. An FMC representative will determine if there is significant crop loss and may, at their sole discretion, require certification of crop loss through site inspection and/or request crop insurance records.

Assurance payment requests must be submitted to FMC prior to harvest through an FMC authorized retailer where qualifying products were purchased. Fields in question must be inspected prior to harvest and proof of purchase of qualifying products through invoices will be required.
